Briefing and equipment check

SUNDAY, 18 JUNE

.....

 7KM / 4.3MI  3 - 4 HOURS

Lemosho Glades (2385m / 7825ft) to Big Tree Camp (2780m / 9121ft)

Depart your hotel around 08:00am and for the Lemosho gate located on the western side of Kilimanjaro. Here you will begin your climb through the forests of the Lemosho glades to reach Big Tree camp.

MONDAY, 19 JUNE

.....

 16.5KM / 10.3MI  9 - 11 HOURS

Big Tree Camp (2780m / 9121ft)
to Shira 2 Camp (3900m / 12795ft)

From the heather and moorland of Shira Plateau, you'll enjoy some of the most unique views of Kibo. Some of the trails enroute to Shira 2 are fairly steep and technical

TUESDAY, 20 JUNE

.....

 10KM / 6.2MI  6 - 7 HOURS

Shira 2 Camp (3900m / 12795ft) to Barranco Camp (3960m / 12992ft)

Continue via the upland desert ecological zone to the pinnacle of the Lava Tower (4640 m), your high point for the day and a great place to enjoy lunch. In the afternoon a steep descent leads to our camp at the base of the Great Barranco Valley (3960m), sheltered by towering cliffs and offering extensive views of the plains below.

WEDNESDAY, 21 JUNE

.....

 5.5KM / 3.4MI  5 - 6 HOURS

Barranco Camp (3,972m / 13,031ft)
to Karanga Camp (3963m / 13,002ft)

Begin the day with a descent into the Great Barranco, before exiting the ravine with a steep climb up the Great Barranco Wall. Pass underneath the Heim and Kersten glaciers and climb from the Karanga valley to Karanga camp (3963m). If you feel strong, undertake a mid-afternoon acclimatization trek to 4200m before descending back to camp for the night.

THURSDAY, 22 JUNE

.....

 3KM / 1.9MI  3 - 4 HOURS

Karanga Camp (3963m / 13,002ft)
to Barafu Camp (4,640m / 15,223ft)

Cross the desolate scree slopes at altitude to Barafu Camp (4640m). After lunch, get some rest in preparation for the long summit night and day ahead. Important to keep hydrated and warm, you'll have an early dinner and wake at around midnight to start the climb.

FRIDAY, 23 JUNE

.....

 13.4KM / 8.3MI  12 - 15 HOURS

Barafu Camp (4640m / 15,223ft) to UHURU PEAK (Final Summit) (5895m / 19,340ft) and down to Millennium Camp (3790m / 12,434ft)

Begin your summit at midnight, climbing scree fields for 4-5 hours and gaining a great deal of elevation quickly. Arrive on the crater rim at Stella Point (5739m) together with the first rays of sunlight. Surrounded by spectacular ice cliffs and views of jagged Mawenzi peak, another hour of walking will see you reach the summit at Uhuru Peak (5895m). After celebrating your summit of Africa's tallest peak, descend to Barafu Camp for breakfast, and then to Millennium Camp for a well-earned sleep.

SATURDAY, 24 JUNE

.....

 12.1KM / 7.5MI  6 - 7 HOURS

Trek down Millennium Camp (3790m / 12,434ft) to Mweka Gate (Finish) (1630m / 5,348ft)

Appreciate a gentle trek through the rain forest to Mweka Gate, where you'll board vehicles for the return to the hotel in Moshi. Treat yourself to a welcome shower (and a cold beer or two) before a big celebration dinner.
